GRADUATE COURSE IN ORTHODONTICS

Indiana University School of Dentistry

Applications will be received up to May 1, 1951, for the graduate course in Orthodontics at Indiana University. The course commences on September 24, 1951 and continues for a period of at least fifteen months. Enrollment is limited to four graduates of approved dental schools. The applicants must possess satisfactory scholastic standing acceptable for enrollment for the Master of Science degree in the School of Graduate Studies of Indiana University. This course is under the direction of Dr. J. William Adams, Professor and Head of the Department of Orthodontics.

For further information and application forms, address all inquiries to:

By vote of the Executive Committee of the Edward H. Angle Society of Orthodontia, no Directory of the Society's membership will be published this year. Although the Editor has requested information for such a Directory for the October 1951 issue, he concurs in the Committee's view that a biennial directory will suffice.

All future directories will be issued separately to the membership of the Society, and will not be published in the pages of the ANGLE ORTHODONTIST.
